Foreign Affairs Advisor Visits Truman; Has Great Confidence in MacArthur—Very Little Known About General's Report

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman came back from a Tokyo meeting with General Douglas MacArthur today and reported to President Truman that American forces are confident they can drive the Communists out of South Korea.

The President's foreign affairs advisor went to the White House about three hours after his arrival by plane and spent 30 minutes with Mr. Truman.

He told reporters afterwards that he informed the President about "my conversations with General MacArthur and by observations" on a battlefield visit to Korea.

3,000 Gas Stations Strike; State Cops Are Put on Alert

Few Spots Open Do Big Business; Violence Might Break Out as Result

Newark, N. J., Aug. 9 (AP)—Some 3,000 gasoline stations went on a week-long shutdown strike today and police were alerted against possible violence in the fight to halt the New Jersey "price war."

John Dressler, head of the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers Association, said flying squads of strikers were checking on all stations still open this morning and would dispatch "shock troops" to persuade non-cooperating dealers to join the shutdown.

The first blockading of a station was reported in Passaic. Colonel Charles H. Schoeffel said he had ordered all his state police road commanders on the alert. The state police superintendent in Trenton immediately reported to the Trenton headquarters "should it be necessary to take police action in any incidents involving disorder, particularly where violence occurs."

There were isolated reports of disturbances.

Governor Driscoll came back to his desk this morning after a brief Maine vacation. He said he might have a statement on the gasoline situation later this morning.

Do Landslide Business
Few stations remained open in the metropolitan north Jersey area, but those that did were doing a landslide business.

The strike this morning had been decided on at a mass meeting of the Gas Retailers Association held at Trenton yesterday. Association leaders said they wanted to halt the present downward price trend which they blamed on the Sun Oil Co.

The Sun Oil Co., in turn, said it had cut its prices to meet the competition of an independent brand dealer. Sun owns five stations in New Jersey and has 900 others in the state selling its products.

A spokesman for the Sun Oil Co. said it was "watching very carefully what happens and will take all precautions in an effort to avert violence."

Most of the activity this morning was centered in Bergen county. The first price-cutting activity had started there two weeks ago, beginning on Route 17 and spreading then through 10 counties.

Taken Up Position
Dressler himself took up a position on Route 4, the big highway approach leading from Route 17 to the George Washington Bridge. He said he would receive reports there from his flying squads and decide if "shock troops" should be sent out.

First report of an enforced closing came from Passaic where pickets in cars jammed the driveway leading to a Morit Gas Station at River drive and Gregory avenue.

In Monmouth county, the delegate for the retailers Association said he had sought to extend the shutdown today for the second straight day. Final Vote Might Come On Controls

Compromise Is on Lines of Bill Approved by Senate Group, Meets Truman Desires Credits Discussed

Realty Bars Might Be Imposed; Market Is Exempt

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—House leaders hoped for a final vote today on a compromise bill that would give the President standby wage and price controls and power to impose rationing.

Worked out late yesterday by the House Banking Committee, after a week of debate in the House (itself had produced no results), the compromise generally follows lines of a bill approved by the Senate Banking Committee.

It also coincides with the type of legislation the President has indicated he would accept. It contains no mandatory provisions and no "trigger" clauses requiring the President to use the powers before he wants to.

Some of the details still are to be worked out by the House Committee at a meeting today, but yesterday's 21 to 1 vote presaged clear sailing in the House.

Leaders of both political parties had said earlier they would go along with an "acceptable" compromise in order to break the House deadlock.

To Decide Rationing
The committee still must decide whether to give the President rationing powers such as the Senate committee recommended, and how extensive to make the grant of authority to curb consumer credit extension.

Many House members don't want the credit curbs applied to real estate financing or to speculation on commodity markets. The Senate committee recommended curbs on real estate financing but none on market speculation.

Major provisions of the bill as already approved or likely to be approved today by the House group would give the President power to:

1. Put ceilings on prices and wages, with the May 24-June 24, 1950, levels as a yardstick, but not a mandatory one for prices. However, no wage could be pegged at a lower figure than was paid during that period. Controls on wages would be required when price ceilings have been imposed on a substantial part of all sales at retail and materially affecting the cost of living.

2. Ration and allocate materials and facilities and require contractors to give top priority to making things needed for defense.

3. Seize and operate privately owned plants and materials if that is necessary to speed up production. (The President already has requisitioned power over production facilities under the draft law.)

4. Curb consumer credit and tighten up on real estate financing. Speed up production through government loans and guarantees up to a maximum of $2,000,000.

The bill contains a specific ban against putting ceilings on rents, although a minority of House members are fighting to give the President new rent control powers.

It contains a stiff prohibition against hoarding, with a penalty of one year in prison and a $10,000 fine for violators. The House already has passed on and approved the anti-hoarding provision.

Before it can take up the compromise bill, the House must vote on a pending proposal by Rep. McKinnon (D-Calif.) to take from the President the option to clamp on wage and price controls if living costs jump 5 per cent above the last June 15 figure as reflected by the Labor Department cost of living index.

When living costs reached the 5 per cent increase, the President would have to impose controls. He could impose them sooner if he wants.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegation chief, retorted pointedly: "Who hasn't cooperated with 53 other U. S. members in the Korean action? Who could call off the North Korea invaders? What member of this Security Council is assisting the invaders in the Security Council?"

In each case, Austin answered himself: "The Soviet Union."

But Malik refused to allow Austin's resolution of July 31, denouncing the North Koreans and demanding that aid for them be cut off.

Clark Shows Gain In Idaho Race for Senate Nomination

Has Present Lead Over Glen Taylor of 1,455 Votes in Tight Fight

(By The Associated Press)
Former Senator D. Worth Clark was inching away from Senator Glen Taylor today in their nip-and-tuck race for Idaho's Democratic Senate nomination.

In 675 precincts of 839, Clark had 23,882 and Taylor 22,427, a lead of 1,455. A third candidate, Rep. Compton White, had 13,041. During the night, first one and then the other held a slight margin. The race is for a full six year term.

Senator Henry Dworshak, serving by appointment, won the Republican nomination for the four year term. His two opponents, former Rep. Abe McGreggor Goff, and Fentress Kuhn, Boise businessman, conceded.

The Taylor-Clark contest featured primary elections yesterday in Idaho, Nebraska and Arkansas.

Taylor ran for vice president on Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party ticket in 1948, but this year returned to the Democratic party. Last night Wallace resigned from the Progressive party because it condemns the U. S. stand in Korea.

Taylor's opponents in the campaign accused him of being friendly toward Russia and of associating with Communist elements. He denied it.

State Senator Herman Welker continued to hold a slight lead for the Republican nomination for the six year term. His opponents were Gov. C. A. Robins and Rep. John Sanborn.

Claude Burtenshaw, Ricks College professor, clung to his initial lead in a five man contest for the Democratic Senate nomination for the four year term.

Nebraska's Republican governor, Val Peterson, won a third term nomination over two opponents. All four of the state's representatives — three Republicans and one Democrat — won re-nomination. Reps. O'Sullivan (D.) and Stefan (R.) were unopposed.

Walter R. Raacke, Central City attorney, was running ahead in a five way race for the Democratic governorship nomination.

Senator J. William Fulbright and six House Democrats were re-nominated without opposition in Arkansas.

Fourth Polio Case Reported in Ulster

New York Boy, 17, Taken to Benedictine; 1950 Outbreak Low

A fourth case of polio which had its onset in Ulster county was reported today by the county health department.

The new case is a 17-year-old New York boy who is now at the Benedictine Hospital.

County health records show the disease has had a mild outbreak in the county as compared to last year when 18 cases were reported up to this date, nine in July and nine in August.

One case this year which had its onset in May was reported in June. The other early case was in July and on July 12 an abortive case was reported. The victim was a three-year-old child.

Surgeon May Tell His Story in Public

Dr. Gibson Central Figure in Probe Concerning Woman's Death

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 9 (AP)—Dr. Donald F. Gibson, 48-year-old Danbury surgeon, central figure in the investigation of the death of his aged patient and benefactress, was offered the opportunity today to tell his story in public.

Yesterday Gibson's counsel, David Goldstein, said the surgeon had declined to testify before Governor Theodore F. Steiner, on his advice, because said Goldstein, he would be denied the right of cross examination.

It was not immediately clear today whether under Steiner's offer to let Gibson tell his story in open court Goldstein would have that right.

Said Steiner today: "If the doctor wants to testify I'll open the hearing for him."

Presumably that would be next Tuesday to which yesterday's two hour opening inquiry was adjourned after a number of witnesses had testified in private including Dr. Thomas L. Chiffelle, Yale medical school pathologist. Chiffelle performed the autopsy on the body of 74-year-old Miss Elizabeth M. Ayres.

Dr. Gibson, World War 2 naval commander, who lived at Mrs. Ayres' home, was sole heir to her estate variously estimated between $65,000 to $100,000. Divorced from his first wife by whom he had two children, the surgeon was married last Saturday to his former nurse and yesterday's hearing interrupted their honeymoon.

Miss Ayres died July 26 and a death certificate signed by another physician attributed her death to cancer and nephritis.

Her body was sent immediately to the Yale Medical School, at said Dr. Gibson, her own request. It subsequently was subjected to an autopsy at the instructions of Coroner Steiber and a few days later returned to Danbury for burial after religious service.

State G.O.P. Plans Executive Meeting

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Rep. Pfeiffer (R-N.Y.) said today he plans to call a meeting of the New York State Republican executive committee the week of Aug. 21.

Pfeiffer, state G.O.P. chairman, said he doesn't know now the exact date the meeting will be held in Albany.

The committee will discuss, he said, selection of a keynote speaker and chairman of the party's nominating convention to be held at Saratoga Springs early next month. The committee's recommendations for both posts will be given to the full state committee.

Parties Maneuver To Get Subversive Bills Into Senate

Democrats, Republicans Charge Each With Politics; Race Underway

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Democrats and Republicans maneuvered today to get their own versions of anti-Communist and anti-subversive bills before the Senate. Each side charged the other with playing politics.

In the House two committees were in a race to get the floor first with anti-Communist legislation.

Armed with an appeal by President Truman for authority to register foreign trained spies and saboteurs, Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) asked the Democratic Policy Committee (non, 1-5-51) to study the possibility of combining several security bills into a Democratic-backed single-package measure. Mr. Truman made his request yesterday in a 3,000-word message to Congress.

Led by Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Mundt of South Dakota, who have a bill of their own, Republicans talked over parliamentary plans to force action on a Communist registration bill that the President called "unnecessary, ineffective and dangerous."

To Begin Work
Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.), of the House Judiciary Committee, told reporters he will begin work immediately to put the President's message into effect.

Bronx Man Dies At Pine Hill Hotel

Gottfried Grunwald, 61, of 573 West 392nd street, New York, died suddenly in the wash room of a Pine Hill hotel last night as his wife waited for him in the lobby.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was due to a heart attack. State Trooper Ray Dunn at Phenicia said Grunwald and his wife, Eyedla, were staying at the Pine Hill Hotel, Pine Hill, and were walking down through the village when Grunwald went to the wash room of the Pine Hill Arms.

Mrs. Grunwald waited about a half hour, the trooper said, and then notified Klaus Dammann, manager of the hotel. He broke through the door and found Grunwald lying on the floor of the wash room. The manager then notified Trooper Dunn. A doctor from Margaretville and the coroner were called.

The body was turned over to the Gormley Funeral Home in Phenicia.

Some of the river crossing Reds on the allied side of the Nakdong six miles below Changyong were driven out of high ground by Americans. Changyong is 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

Late frontline dispatches from the Changyong bridgehead said the bulge there had been reduced by U. S. troops who drove the Communists out of high ground. These dispatches said the Reds were being herded in exposed positions on a slope near the river.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, had ordered the invaders at this point wiped out by nightfall.

Americans Pick Up in South Area

Yank and South Korean Successes Wipe Out Threats to Taegu on Central Front

News Cheered

Bayonet Fighting, Tank Busting Rages Along Whole Front

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Thursday, Aug. 10 (AP)—Aggressive Allied Forces scored victories over North Korean Red troops all along the Korean war-front Wednesday.

In combat ranging from bayonet attacks to tank-busting, American Doughboys forced the Reds to retreat in the deep south. South Koreans slammed invaders back across the Nakdong river on the central front.

American attacks in the south picked up momentum and reeled the Reds backward toward ruined Chinju, Communist base.

The Fifth Regimental combat team was only seven miles from a link-up with the 35th Regimental combat team.

Red troops, the Americans had been bogged down for two days near Chindung. They jumped off before dawn Wednesday on the new attack. Marines were rolling ahead with them. Defenders of the Nakdong river line to the north shoved the Reds out of two river crossing bridgeheads.

The U. S. 24th Division herded others into an open spot from the hills and poured artillery shells into them.

Threats Lessened
Serious threats to the important Taegu area on the central front were eased by the American and South Korean successes. The cheering news was given in a U. S. 8th Army communique issued at 6:00 p. m. (3:30 a. m. P.S.T.) Wednesday.

The close fighting took place in the south. U. S. soldiers, clamping hands before charging with fixed bayonets, killed 40 North Koreans in a sharp engagement.

The communique said the Reds apparently were withdrawing toward Chinju. The U. S. 35th Regimental combat team put patrols to within seven miles of the burned-out city.

The communique reported "aggressive-minded United Nations troops carried out successful action in every engagement with the enemy" along the entire 140-mile front.

Correspondent Hal Boyle reported U. S. First Cavalrymen chased after a battalion of Reds in the hills two miles below Waegwan, 15 miles northwest of Taegu, the South Korean republic's emergency capital.

The Communists had waded the river in the night and commanded the raid to Taegu with machine-gun and mortar fire from a 1,200-foot ridge.

North of Waegwan, South Korean troops, drove the invaders back to the Nakdong river. One hundred fleeing Reds were mowed down by their own panicky comrades when they tried to get back across the river from the allied east bank.

Reds Driven Out
Some of the river crossing Reds on the allied side of the Nakdong six miles below Changyong were driven out of high ground by Americans. Changyong is 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

Stomach Specialist Says Ice Water Harms Digestion

A specialist and researcher in the treatment of stomach disorders told members of the Kingston Lions Club here Tuesday noon that drinking ice water is an "insult to the stomach."

Dr. H. M. Eberhard, professor of gastro-enterology at the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, Philadelphia, said ice water lowers the temperature of the stomach and interferes with its digestive functions. He said his studies indicated many deaths attributed to so-called "acute indigestion" are caused by excessive use of cold liquids.

Dr. Eberhard's research was conducted over a period of years by the use of a resistance thermometer, which is lowered into the stomach and intestines in a tube. He found that the normal temperature of the human stomach averages between 99 and 101 degrees.

Drinking an ordinary tumblerful of water which was cooled by cracked ice can lower the temperature from 20 to 30 degrees, and it requires a half-hour before the temperature raises to normal, he said.

He recommended water for drinking purposes be of room temperature. It can be cooled slightly, but not lower than 60 degrees without being harmful, he said. Hot liquids are not as harmful as ice-cold, so long as they are cool enough not to burn the tongue, he said.

Dr. Eberhard also warned of the effects of alcohol on the stomach, particularly the custom of drinking cocktails before eating. He recommended that those who must drink alcohol, do so only after eating. He also said that cigarette smoking is harmful.

Dr. Eberhard was introduced at the regular Lions Club meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel by Dr. Saul Goldfarb.

Could Double Output

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—The huge General Electric Company is ready to double its World War 2 production rate in the event of all-out national mobilization, President Charles E. Wilson said yesterday that G.E. had accelerated its mobilization planning because of the Korean fighting. He added that the company now was geared more effectively for war production than at any time in its peacetime history. About 20 per cent of G.E.'s current business is defense work, Wilson said. He reported that some defense contracts had been increased since the start of the Korean war. Details were not revealed for security reasons. Wilson said that G.E. had expanded from 61 to 115 plants since 1941, and now had about 180,000 workers. About half that number were employed before World War 2.

Balloon Scares Singapore

Singapore (AP)—A flying saucer scare swept Singapore after a white object was spotted about two miles in the sky. The "flying saucer" turned out to be a Meteorological Department balloon with recording instruments to test the density of the upper atmosphere. The information is needed when the new British-built Comet jet airliners start operating through Singapore to Australia.

Right Defense Play Can Save the Day

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"We have come across a defensive play that was not actually made in one of our recent games," writes a Birmingham correspondent.

"We discovered later on that the hand could have been set by the proper play. However, we do not see how West could have known that this was the correct play.

"West led the five of spades. East played the queen, and South won with the ace. South led a small diamond, West played the nine, dummy's jack was finessed, and East won with the ace. East then returned the seven of spades. South played the jack, and West made the fatal mistake of winning with his king.

"Now South was sure to make his contract. He won the spade return with the ten, took his clubs, and led from dummy towards his queen of hearts. East could take the king of hearts, but could not prevent South from making the contract with two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

"After the hand had been played, somebody pointed out that West could have defeated the contract by refusing the second round of spades. Whenever East got the lead with his king of hearts, he would return his last spade. West could then take the king and the rest of the spades.

"Is this something that West should have known? Or would I say that West was unlucky?" I am sorry to say that West was not unlucky. He should have known what the situation was.

When East returned the seven of spades, it should have been clear that he was returning his top spade. South was therefore marked with the jack and the ten. If South also had the deuce of spades, there was very little that West could do to defeat the contract.

As a matter of fact, this is a standard defensive play. When the opening leader has begun a long suit against no-trump, he should not always hasten to take a top card at the first opportunity. By ducking he may make it possible for his partner to lead the suit again when it has been fully established.

Last Rabies Clinic In City Thursday

The last scheduled rabies clinic in the city of Kingston will be held at the Central Fire Station, Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m. With the exception of two townships, 70 per cent of all dogs have been vaccinated. This response to the clinics has been most gratifying, reports the Ulster County Health Department. Since July 18, 6,301 dogs have been vaccinated in Ulster county.

Only vaccinated dogs have the privilege of running at large. All unvaccinated dogs are considered a menace to the public. Vaccinated dogs are the only protective barrier that man has against rabies in wildlife.

Dr. Hoppenstedt said that there would be no fall up-clinic. Dog owners who do not take their dogs to the clinic should go to a private veterinarian, he advised.

Missing Woman Found

Valley Cottage, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Miss Alexandra Shilling, 79-year-old Russian refugee missing for 20 hours from a farm retreat for White Russians, was found late yesterday. Russian Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, who operates Reed Farm as a settlement for anti-Stalinist refugees from the Soviet Union, said Miss Shilling was found at a neighbor's house three miles from the farm. "She got lost late Monday, and roamed all night through the wood," the countess said. "It rained, and she was wet and scratched and very sick when she finally came to a neighbor's house."

REDS USE U.N. FOR PROPAGANDA
It's been but a short time since Russia returned to the United Nations. Yet already delegates look fondly back upon the recent happy past, when the U.N. rolled smoothly forward without frustrating delay for the first time in its life.

That hopeful interlude ended the moment Jacob Malik, the Soviet representative, resumed his seat on the U.N. Security Council. Now the world again is watching a disheartening spectacle: Russia's customary effort to twist the U.N. into a vehicle for its own propaganda.

To be sure, this attempt can't succeed today in the degree it once did. Thanks to Russia's absence in the critical early phase of the Korean war, the U.N. is at its strongest. And it will stoutly resist any tactics conceived to reduce it once more to impotence.

Malik's opening maneuvers are pretty transparent. His bid to achieve ouster of Nationalist China and the seating of Red China instead is almost certainly a diversion. The Russians knew before Malik returned that only a small handful of nations are in a mood to discuss this issue so long as war rages in Korea.

Furthermore, Malik didn't even make the good fight for that objective. When the council overthrew his ruling that Nationalist China would no longer be recognized, the Russian dubbed the procedure "illegal" but resorted to no further tricks. He continues to argue the point, but it's a sham battle.

Russia's real aim in returning is to drape herself in the robes of "peacemaker" in Korea. She wants to make her aggression in Korea palatable, if possible, to other Asiatics who may now strangely entertain some doubts as to her friendly intentions.

To accomplish this, Malik is falling back on that tiresome, threadbare totalitarian device of accusing Russia's opponents of the very things she herself is guilty of. So it's the United States, not the Soviet Union, which is the aggressor. More than that, says Malik, we have imperialistic designs on other Asiatic lands, including the Philippines (whose freedom we energetically promoted). Led by "cruel, brutal millionaires," the U. S. is out to enslave Korea and dominate the Far East.

So goes the fantasy. While thundering this upside-down version of the facts, Malik, without reddening in shame, dares to declare that Russia desires "peaceful settlement" of the Korean question.

It should be abundantly clear to all that the Soviet Union has no thought of discussing peace in realistic terms. Nor can she imagine that the U.N. would accept her terms, which probably would call for accepting North Korean conquests, or at least for "elections" in Korea that would be rigged to produce a pro-Communist result.

What Russia seeks is to shift the blame for Korea to American shoulders, not alone to take the sting out of that aggression but possibly to justify further action there or elsewhere in Asia.

This being so, India's well-meant effort to promote peace by first settling the China U.N. question looks painfully foolish. Who can believe that the admission of Red China would suddenly alter Russia's version of the Korean war?

It isn't the China issue which stands in the way of peace in Korea. It is Russia, the nation which began this war and is now trying to transfer the guilt to the United States. No country interested in penalizing rather than rewarding aggression will listen seriously to any peace proposal which would obscure that truth.

Sunrise is a treat for the hardy few who rise from their beds early enough to see it, and having done so take the time to look. But sunset can be enjoyed by everyone. Everywhere there is a colorful sunset at least occasionally. Some places are blessed with sunsets of such grand beauty that they are worth traveling many miles to see. Even the fabled depths of the big city, where blot out the sky and the horizon is something read about in books, the dying sun paints its tints on the sides of the build-

THE PRESS AND THE COURTS
The press has come in for its share of criticism in recent years, principally by those who would in some manner limit its freedoms in the interests of a particular group.

Recently, Judge Simon H. Rifkind of New York has come up with what those who apparently prefer star chamber proceedings call "trial by newspaper." The particular annoyance of most of these critics is that the newspapers in New York gave such widespread publicity to the first Hiss trial that what, at the beginning, looked like a typical Washington push-over, led to an actual conviction in the second Hiss trial. The judges did not like the rough handling the court got from reporters, some of whom have had longer and more profound experience in the courts than some of the judges.

Held out by Judge Rifkind and others is the system in vogue in England where a case may not be discussed while it is on trial.
Granted that the British standard of judicial performance is high, British judges are all appointed practically for life. They do not have to go to politicians for the favor of a nomination or a re-nomination. They do not have to contribute to party funds in their own name or that of their fathers-in-law. Even federal judges, who in this country are also appointed for a tenure of good behavior, usually have to have the endorsement or friendship of some party boss or great figure. A few outstanding personalities can out-pass the politician, but they are very few.

What keeps some judges—too many of them—in line is fear of the press. Unfortunately, in large cities, the courts cannot be adequately covered; they are too numerous and the calendar is enormous. Nevertheless, when the issue arises, it is the press which watches in the interest of the people.

Judge Rifkind makes the point:
"There is practically no restraint upon the character of the information and opinion which a newspaper can publish about a case before trial, while it is pending before a jury, or after it has been decided."

Actually, what worries many lawyers and even judges is that sound reporters get the facts in many cases before they can be covered up. In the combination between politicians and criminals, the courts of this country would have been in a bad way were it not that newspapermen, on the prowl for news, rarely respect the politician or fear the criminal.

Judge Rifkind says, "An attitude of dispassionateness, of objectivity, of serenity prevails in the courtroom." He must be describing a court very different from, let us say, the one over which his colleague, Judge Medina, presided, where lawyers bickered and brayed and generally disgraced themselves.

In fact, in the first Hiss trial, there was little enough objectivity when Justice Felix Frankfurter donned the role of a character witness. Nor was there much serenity or dignity.

The judge proposes that the bench, bar, and press get together to make a deal as to how the press is to handle cases before the courts. The reason:

"After all, the press and the courts are mutually interdependent. The press must have an uncoerced judiciary to maintain freedom of the press; and the judiciary must have an uncoerced press to maintain an uncoerced judiciary."

Apparently, Judge Rifkind does not understand the Anglo-Saxon tradition of freedom of the press. Newspapers exist not to have the courts protect their right to be free, but to publish the news. They are not dependent upon judges but upon their readers. Their obligation is not to politicians but to the public.

A judge, or a lawyer, or a witness is just like anybody else. If he makes news, good or bad, he gets his name in the paper and sometimes a picture. Maybe some of these rarified souls would prefer that newspapers publish nothing but their obituary notices, carefully edited so that their grandchildren may refer to them with pride. Life is not like that.

The best thing to do is to let the press alone. When the newspapers and public opinion, they hear the verdict. And that is one voice that is never ignored. Our courts are not so perfect nor are judges so noble that this country can afford to suppress the free publication of the news about our courts.

That Body of Yours

NEEDLE BIOPSY

With tuberculosis of the lung there are usually some signs that the patient and family can observe—cough, loss of weight, and tiredness. However, with cancer of the lung there are few or no symptoms except a light wheeze at first, but this is practically always present. In Paris Medical, Drs. C. Girard, P. Cazul, and F. Boyer state that needle biopsy—inserting a needle into the lung and examining contents withdrawn by the needle—offers considerable aid in discovering the difference in cancer, tuberculosis, and syphilis in the lung in patients whose X-ray findings are not clear enough to distinguish between these diseases. When there is an abscess or cyst present or signs of bleeding, a needle biopsy should not be made. An injection of 50 mg. of vitamin K should be given twelve hours before the puncture with the needle. The needle biopsy should be performed under a local anesthetic. The patient is asked to breathe out all the air in his lungs and not breathe in again until the needle and its lung tissue has been withdrawn. The means that as much air as possible is out of the lungs and the lung is drawn as near as possible to the wall of the chest. The needle then passes through the pleura (lining of the chest wall and outer covering of the lung) directly into the spot already revealed by X-ray. The needle is directed to this spot by means of the fluoroscope.

By needle biopsy, in a great many cases, the condition present—cancer, tuberculosis, syphilis—can be recognized, which means that some of the extensive surgical operations—removal of ribs and a lobe of the lung—may not be needed to recognize the disease present. We can see the great value of needle biopsy in helping the physician to diagnose a disease.

Early discovery of cancer is a long step forward in its treatment.

THE ENDURING WALTZ

What popular dance of today will live into the future? Oscar Dwyer, 79-year-old dance teacher in New York City, votes for the waltz, which may not be universally regarded as a popular dance of the day. The waltz, he says, has outlived all its competitors, and still has its addicts today.

Whatever may be the popular dance steps of the future, most music lovers will maintain that waltz music is incomparably superior to the barbaric strains that accompany some of the dances of today.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—This is the last column I shall write before taking a couple of weeks off, and naturally I should like to make it a good one. But I don't feel so good about the state of the world or the state of the nation, and I don't get much kick out of sitting back and peg-lazing.

However, here are some contrasts affecting our future which the American public ought to know about and which Congress will have a chance to rectify—if it wants to.

Contrast No. 1.—Between 1,200 to 2,000 Chinese students are going to Moscow every month to become indoctrinated in the ways of the Soviet. Mao Tse-tung, now the Communist ruler of China, spent a long time studying in Moscow, and they will follow in his footsteps. Twenty years ago the Russians planned their domination of China by setting up a special University of the Far East. The monthly trek of Chinese students across the Trans-Siberian Railroad shows Moscow is still looking far into the future.

In contrast, the U.S.A. used to bring possibly 1,200 Chinese students to this country a year against what the Russians are bringing per month. Some of our Boxer-Rebellion-educated Chinese went back to help run China, but for about ten years almost no Chinese students have come here. When they do come they are heckled and hounded with red tape, including a bond which says they are undesirable yellowmen who promise not to remain in the U.S.A.

Contrast No. 2.—The Russians recently invited the published of three Indo-Chinese newspapers to Moscow, where they gave him a special parade of the Red army, let him interview Stalin, gave him the caviar-vodka-ballet treatment, and sent him back after having spent perhaps $50,000 on his entertainment. His newspapers promptly came out for Russia.

Meanwhile, in Washington we entertain such important Oriental visitors as the mayor of Tokyo and members of the Japanese Parliament at cheaper hotels near the Union station, where we allow only $10 a day to cover all meals, hotel room and everything else—all because a niggardly Congress has cut "the exchange of persons" budget to the bone.

These distinguished visitors are told that President Truman is too busy to see them, though Stalin takes time to see leading Orientalists. However, many state and city officials—with the notable exception of Boston—have done their best to be hospitable, while federal officials have done as much as they could within their penny-pinched budget.

Contrast No. 3.—In Latin America the president who is friendliest to the United States was educated at the University of Maryland and the University of California. He is President Gale Plaza of Ecuador, who also runs one of the steadiest governments in Latin America. In Argentina the navy and air force are vigorously pro-American. Reason: Their commanding officers trained as cadets in the U. S. A. The Argentine Army was partly trained by Germans and is anti-American.

In Brazil, the navy is also strong for the United States because its officers went to Annapolis. The Brazilian Army, trained by Europeans, did not rush to join the United States immediately after Pearl Harbor.

Congress permits only a handful of Latin Americans to get a free education in the United States, but many come here at their own expense anyway.

Contrast No. 4.—On July 13, the State Department's appropriation for "exchange of persons" and other propaganda came up for debate. The Senate voted to cut $2,300,000 of a budget already scaled to the bone. Those who fought for people-to-people friendship were Fulbright of Arkansas and Lehman of New York. Those who led the fight against it were McClellan of Tennessee, McCarthy of Nevada, and Saltonstall of Massachusetts, with such senators as Byrd of Virginia, George of Georgia, Taft of Ohio, McCarthy of Wisconsin, and Brewster of Maine supporting them.

Meanwhile, a printer from Akron, Ohio, Fred W. Dunner, walked into the State Department and offered to compensate for the niggardliness of Congress by printing 1,000,000 colored booklets telling the story of America, free. His offer was accepted.

Moral Mobilization
The above pertains only to channels for telling the story of America to foreign countries. It does not pertain to telling the story of America to Americans—which also is necessary.

For when we exhibit strong moral leadership at home, such leadership spills over to other countries and gives us world leadership, too.

And I should like to suggest, as I quit and leave for my vacation, that what the world needs today—and what we need—is hope. We live too much in an age of fear.

We worry constantly. We worry about what happens after we reach the 38th parallel in Korea, what happens after the Korean war is ended? We worry about arming to the teeth, taking ourselves to the bone, living in a world where the atomic bomb may be dropped at any moment.

These are justifiable worries. They cannot be dispelled by a Pollyanna policy or the Cope system. The only way to dispel them, it seems to me, is by both moral mobilization and total mobilization.

The far-sighted senator from Connecticut, Brian McMahon, saw this some time ago when he proposed that we take the lead in demanding world disarmament. This is something which not only negates Moscow's cry that we are warmongers, but more than anything else, it gives the world hope.

Ultimatum to Moscow
The time is soon approaching, when, with both total mobilization and moral mobilization, we shall notify Moscow that we are ready for any eventualities, and that we demand two things:

1. Total disarmament.
2. Normal interchange of peoples, books, newspapers; religious worship, and the end of the Iron Curtain.

In brief, the time has come to notify Moscow that we have a heavy hand on the world, refusing to let its people know the powerful hopes of the world, constantly preparing them for war—then such unusual attitude constitutes war—and we give them the alternative of changing their policy or dropping the bomb.

No city or community in the western world will permit an armed soldier to build up an arsenal and constantly terrorize his neighbors. He would be locked up.

President Has Acted Well in Favoring Bill for Registration of Instructed Subversives

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Truman has wisely come out in favor of legislation which would require registration of all "persons who have received instruction from a foreign government or political party in espionage or subversive tactics."

This is in the main what the bill sponsored by two Republicans—Senator Mundt of South Dakota and Representative Nixon of California—has heretofore proposed but it is the first important step taken by the administration to recognize the need for new laws to combat the Communist movements in this country.

There are various bills of a restrictive nature pending and the President's message takes a crack at this proposed legislation as "so broad and vague in its terms as to endanger the freedoms of speech, press, and assembly protected by the First Amendment."

It is a matter of debate, however, whether Mr. Truman's characterization itself is not rather broad. For the truth is Congress is deeply concerned about the unrestricted way in which Communists operate in America, and many members feel that the effort to silence communistic activity should be encouraged rather than discouraged. The President, without differentiating between the various proposals, says this:

"Some of the proposed measures would, in effect, impose severe penalties for normal political activities on the part of certain groups, including Communists and communists party-line followers. This kind of legislation is unnecessary, ineffective, and dangerous. It is unnecessary because groups such as the Communists cannot accomplish their evil purposes in this country through normal political activity. They will be repudiated by the people as they have always been."

The foregoing statement will be disputed. Why, it will be asked, should any Communist group be permitted to engage in "normal political activity" or in any other kind of deceptive operation which is a camouflage for its real purposes? The right to be on the ballot is reserved to parties that are American and are not in any way tied up with foreign governments or foreign instruction of any kind. It is not necessary to single out just the Communists in the proposed law but to apply the rule to any political party that is connected with any foreign government.

The Communists, to be sure, cannot win any substantial number of votes, but the mere fact that they are permitted on the ballot or allowed to have political demonstrations enables them to maintain small organizational units which can carry on espionage. It takes only a small number to infiltrate a labor union and bring on a strike or frustrate a settlement in key industries. To forbid normal political activity or the benefits of free speech to foreign spies is not to transgress the Constitution. The courts have decided this, and only last week the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals said it plainly indeed in its decision upholding the conviction of Communist party leaders in this country.

What is overlooked is the fact that the Communists are all tied in one conspiracy. No better explanation of this has been given than in the answers made this week by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in a copyrighted interview in "U. S. News & World Report." Here is an excerpt in point:

"Q. Do you think, Mr. Hoover, that Communists are basically agents of a foreign country, or do you draw a distinction between those who are philosophical Communists and those who are tools of the Communist spy rings?"

"A. The teachings of communism are directed toward one final result—world revolution and the triumph of international communism. The achievement of this aim would mean the violent and complete destruction of the American government. Any person who subscribes to these teachings, regardless of his reason, is working against American democracy and for the benefit of international communism's chief leader, Soviet Russia. The philosophical Communist who advocates Marxism-Leninism might just as well be working as an agent of a foreign power because he is aiding its cause. He is, in fact, however, not an agent for a state but for the Communists, who consider him a 'dupe,' a person not to be trusted but only to be used and then discarded."

"Q. Do your investigations show that the basic allegiance of a Communist is to a foreign government rather than to our own government?"

"A. Most emphatically yes. The ultimate loyalty of fully indoctrinated Communist Party members is to Moscow. . . . It may mouth sweet words of 'peace,' 'democracy,' 'equality,' and flourish gay slogans of international solidarity and brotherhood of men, but its basic aim and end are aimed at the Russian bear. Wherever the Trojan horse of Communist fifth columns has walked, the indelible footprints of Russian imperialism remain behind."

The foregoing expresses a growing conviction in Congress, too, that the Communist party isn't a political party at all but a fifth-column army which cannot be allowed the American political activities as a protective device of constitutionality whereby the Constitution itself is to be destroyed.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 8.—I lunched recently with a Catholic priest who takes pride in a degree of doctor of philosophy which he got for a thesis in favor of the closed shop. I regard the argument as specious pleading in support of an artificial attitude assumed for the purpose of wheedling labor away from the Communists who caught the Catholic and Protestant American editor flattered by the C.I.O. Although this is my own conviction arrived at by independent process, I find myself in the good company of other priests, including one Jesuit father who admitted substantially just that.

My companion expressed confidence in Philip Murray, the president of the C.I.O., and tried to turn off my observation that Murray for a long time collaborated with the Communists. Murray is a Catholic. The reverend father said Murray never had been in favor of Communism. I disagree but insist that Murray is not to be trusted for either of two reasons: (1) He is an opportunist and turncoat who knowingly played the game for and with Communists, or (2) he is too dumb.

In support of this position I cite the fact that Murray wrote a play for the many theaters and against the order of deportation which was issued in the second of three long and absurdly complex and expensive federal proceedings. That order presently was rescinded by an unfortunate decision of the Supreme Court plus a hysterical, if not insane, special conference by the late politician Frank Stanton. Murray was a partisan of the C.I.O. and was guilty of treason against the state of Michigan during the formal insurance.

Bearing in mind that this was the same Philip Murray who once appeared as a Communist, suppose we try to reconcile the following plea by Murray published a few years ago:

"I have read with one opinion recently rendered by the judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New York City. It is a decision which I regard as a landmark in the history of the American people."

Q.—How does nature equip the eagle for the desert?
A.—The eagle has two talons under the feet. It is a broad cushion which spreads out so widely that the eagle does not sink much when walking or running over the desert. Also, the eagle's nostrils can be closed tightly when a gust of wind whips up the sand; this saves the beast from breathing in grains of sand.

Q.—Is milk food or drink?
A.—Scientists today say that milk is not a beverage and should not be used to quench the thirst. It is a food and should be taken slowly.

Q.—Was Sir William D'Avenant, English poet laureate, related to Shakespeare?
A.—D'Avenant was the grandson (and considered by some the natural son) of William Shakespeare. He was 10 years old when Shakespeare died.

A.—The bronze statue of Freedom, modeled by Thomas Crawford, is 19 feet high and weighs 14,000 pounds.

A.—No. True moss is a plant that grows in wet places, and Spanish moss seeds into the wild each year. It is a distant relative of the pineapple.

So They Say...

Every thinking American must realize how close we are to World War III and what that will mean. America as we know it will be gone forever, because no one can win World War III morally and financially.

—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, after hero of World War I.

I no longer look like a bull-plugger.

—Steve O'Neill, manager of Boston Red Sox, explaining why he no longer appears on coaching lines.

The Soviet system in its march toward world domination acts wherever nationalism and social revolt offer an opportunity.

—Gen. Charles De Gaulle of France.

Communism is a force of evil. It contains within itself the seeds which will in time destroy it. Our purpose must be to isolate this malignant force.

—Former President Herbert Hoover.

I can't go along on a party based solely on conservatism. I believe we should have progressives and conservatives in both parties. . . . making for a variety of thought and a health condition.

—Harry S. Truman, G.O.P. national committeeman from Georgia.

When you are cooking a roast it's a good idea to put potatoes, and maybe a mulling, in the oven at the same time for economical use of heat.

Questions — Answers

Q.—How does nature equip the eagle for the desert?
A.—The eagle has two talons under the feet. It is a broad cushion which spreads out so widely that the eagle does not sink much when walking or running over the desert. Also, the eagle's nostrils can be closed tightly when a gust of wind whips up the sand; this saves the beast from breathing in grains of sand.

Q.—Is milk food or drink?
A.—Scientists today say that milk is not a beverage and should not be used to quench the thirst. It is a food and should be taken slowly.

Q.—Was Sir William D'Avenant, English poet laureate, related to Shakespeare?
A.—D'Avenant was the grandson (and considered by some the natural son) of William Shakespeare. He was 10 years old when Shakespeare died.

Q.—How large is the statue of Freedom standing on the dome of the national capitol?
A.—The bronze statue of Freedom, modeled by Thomas Crawford, is 19 feet high and weighs 14,000 pounds.

Q.—Is Spanish moss a true moss?
A.—No. True moss is a plant that grows in wet places, and Spanish moss seeds into the wild each year. It is a distant relative of the pineapple.

The Arizona state capital at Phoenix is one of the few public buildings in the country which doesn't have a cornerstone.

THE GERM TURNS

For as long as I can remember, my Uncle Charles has been complaining of good health—not his own, mind you, but my Aunt Frieda's. For 40 winters, to hear him tell it, he has been an easy mark for colds, catarrhs and rheumatic pains, while his wife has never developed so much as a sniffle.

Last February, when I dropped to see them at their Allen street flat, Charles was in bed, runny-eyed and carmine-nosed.

"What gives?" I asked.

"What always gives?" said my uncle. "Your aunt loses the flu, I find it. She's got a constitutional like a horse."

Frieda was in the kitchen warming up a plaster.

"Like a pasty sandwich she treats me," said Charles. "I'm all over mustard. Every reasonable woman lays down in bed once in a while. But not her—she won't give me the satisfaction."

My favorite relatives came to this country around the time Teddy Roosevelt was elected, and the voyage over, according to Charles, was the roughest in the history of navigation. It took 23 days and even the captain was seasick. Frieda was the only one on board who ate regularly, and she gained an average of a pound a day. When the helmsman took to his bunk—still according to Charles—it was she who took the wheel. As for my uncle, he spent the entire trip with his head sticking out of a porthole and the weather being what it was, it was a miracle he wasn't drowned.

Because of this apparent immunity to disease, Frieda has always been one of the favorite daughters of the East Side, especially when any of the neighbors are ill. For years now, she's been carrying soup and solace to their homes, tending their kids and lecturing their kids and lecturing family doctors on their therapeutic shortcomings.

"Herself, she don't get sick, but to me she brings back the germs," is the way Charles explains her.

A few days ago, however, my uncle telephoned and, without bothering to suppress the triumph in his voice, said, "Frieda is flat like a pancake. She's got a flu, with complications yet."

"I'll send my doctor down," I said, "and I'll be around in the morning."

But when I walked up the three flights to their apartment the following day, the door was opened by an obviously in-the-pink Frieda.

"What are you doing out of bed?"

My aunt motioned me in, and in the bedroom, propped up on pillows as usual, was Charles.

"What happened?"

"What should happen?" said Frieda. "Your uncle got overheated running up and down the stairs like a chicken."

"I thought you had the flu."

"Oh, that," said Frieda. "I fixed it with a guggle-muggle."

For the benefit of the uninitiate, a "guggle-muggle" is an old East Side remedy composed of warm milk, egg, honey, cinnamon and whiskey.

"Wish your uncle happy returns," said Frieda. "It's his birthday."

"Yes, it's my birthday," groaned Charles, "and for a present she gave me her flu."

Collected for Fender

Hempstead, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—

Unlike most husbands, John Ugo learned the fire hydrant that his wife ran into when she tore the fender off their car. So he took a look at it. Yesterday the town board paid him $25 for a new fender after Ugo proved the hydrant was two inches over the curb line.

Veterans Are in Syracuse

ent, is scheduled tonight. Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, leading contender for the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination, is to address the convention Thursday afternoon.

He's Back in Uniform

Mahler of the army-air force recruiting station. Christmas was discharged from the army last January after serving a little more than three years with the 82nd Airborne Division. Mahler said Christmas told him that he liked the service and hoped to get to Korea.

As Pegler Sees It

Court of Appeals in the case of Harry Bridges. The majority affirmed the determination of the attorney general (Biddle) to deport Bridges. A minority, Healy and Garrecht, dissented. Their opinion is attached hereto. I commend the reading of it to every American who cherishes our liberties.

You are invited to note that the majority opinion, which is the law, was not "attached hereto" lest the readers of Murray's brochure be persuaded that Murray's pal and accomplice was guilty. A minority opinion is nothing but the erroneous comments of judges who are mistaken. It is erroneous because they are legally wrong.

The issue in this case embraces more than the possible deportation of Mr. Bridges," Murray wrote. "The opponents of Harry Bridges are the industrialists who seek to exile him and to destroy the union he leads because he was 'guilty' of the 'crime' of organizing the unorganized. A memorandum issued by the Department of Labor confirms this. It recites that 'his deportation was then (1934) and later urged by the interests which he had antagonized, two of whom were the Industrial Association of San Francisco and the Associated Farmers of California, steadfast proponents of the open shop principle.'"

Murray here cites an unverified comment by a government bureau is definitely partial to unions without discrimination against Communist traitors in many dominant positions. The reader will note the citation is meaningless except as deliberately inflammatory propaganda. Incidentally the deportation was urged also by many patriotic societies, including veterans' organizations.

"For this 'crime,'" Murray continued, "Bridges has been the object of relentless investigation. Search during 1935 and 1936 for ways to deport Bridges brought nothing but condemnation of the immigration service for the worthless evidence supplied by the informer. Powerful interests next made an effort to utilize the House Appropriations Committee of the 74th Congress as the forum before which Bridges might be pilloried. But the commissioner of immigration testified that there is not a shred of evidence in our files to indicate that he is any way subject to the provisions of the immigration law because of his radical views."

The Murray screed continues in this vein, holding up Bridges as the personification of labor suffering martyrdom at the hands of "implacable opponents of trade unions."

"The C.I.O. will continue its aggressive campaign in the defense of Mr. Bridges and the interests of labor," wrote the saintly character fool, or unspeakable hypocrite who now appears particularly to Catholic workers for their confidence and contributions. "If the principle underlying the verdict stands, every alien who seeks to build a labor organization in this country is in jeopardy and with him, the labor organization he leads."

Pursuing that thought I refer to a similar pro-Communist brochure entitled "John Santo, American," published by the John Santo Defense Committee in an effort to prevent the deportation of a Communist union leader. On the inside of the front cover is a photograph of Philip Murray and, beneath it, this text: "John Santo, national director of organization for the Transport Workers Union, has served the working people of the United States by improving their wages, hours and working conditions. Santo served in the U. S. Army over three years at the time of mortal peril to our beloved country. Now they want to deport him, charging him with being undesirable and Un-American. There is no decency, no fair play, no justice in these deportation proceedings. The C.I.O. and I, personally, call upon all right-thinking citizens to make their voices heard against the proposed deportation of this man."

In October, 1947, the national C.I.O. convention in Boston adopted a resolution consistent with the same line, calling on the attorney general "to halt this persecution of a leader of labor."

Later, Santo voluntarily turned his back on the United States and returned to Europe.

Four Men Escape

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Four men escaped with $1,500 and about 100 cigarette lighters last night after holding up a night manager and a clerk in a pharmacy at 1255 Castle Hill avenue, the Bronx. Leo Blummer, of 488 East 96th street, Brooklyn, the manager, told police two men forced him and a clerk into a rear room while two others remained outside the drugstore as lookouts. He said one of the holdup men in the pharmacy produced a revolver and ordered him to empty a cash register. He said the robbers fled after scooping up a display of cigarette lighters.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

YOU can see this man has made his mark in life, and while his heart's still young.

You can tell he likes action for his money—that he knows a fine car needn't be the most expensive to get the greatest value.

Yes, such are the things you know of any man, when you note that he is a ROADMASTER.

Follow him on his spirited way as he pilots this lively motorcar through traffic. Even the lightweights are no match for this road-steady, straight-eight Fireball engine that thrums beneath its bonnet.

Maneuver beside him at next stop light. Then just try to get away as smoothly, swiftly and silently as Dynaflow Drive gets his ROADMASTER going—and keeps it rolling without shifting, even automatically.

But don't waste time merely envying the man in this great car! Why not emulate him?

With all its outsize room, interior luxury and exterior grace—with all its front-rank prestige, rare performance and matchless ride—a ROADMASTER can be yours for less than some smaller cars cost.

In fact, even if you had a fortune to spend, you couldn't make a more fortunate buy in the fine-car field.

So we suggest you try a few minutes behind the wheel. We're confident they will convince you that ROADMASTER has everything you could ever ask for in any motorcar—although your Buick dealer asks a good bit less for ROADMASTER than you might pay for other top-line cars.

Grandma 32 Years Old
Chicago (UP)—Mrs. Mollie Divito recently became a grandmother—at the age of 32. Her daughter, Mrs. Rosemarie Campbell, 17, gave birth to a girl. "I didn't want Rosemarie to be married so young, back in 1948, but now I'm happy about it," the girlish grandma said. "After all, I was married at 14." They decided to name the youngest member of the family Joy.

Frederic Snyder's Pledge of Loyalty Widely Circulated

Frederic Snyder of 34 Lucas avenue, news analyst and lecturer, composed an appeal for loyalty for the magazine, "Man-ago," the official publication of the National Association of Foremen. It was not copyrighted in the hopes that many would use it.

Station WJR, Detroit used it to close a morning program and upon request mailed out many thousands of the colorful form on which it was printed.

The appeal was used in the promotion of United Nations Week in 1947.

One of the industrial leaders of Detroit had it printed on posters and these were put on view in all of his plants.

A printing firm in Pittsburgh printed it on cards and has since given it wide circulation. At the present time this form is being taken up by executives in war plants, by union leaders and many organizations.

The appeal, "An American's Pledge of Loyalty" is as follows: I pledge devotion to God. And the brotherhood His word proclaims.

I offer loyalty to the United Nations. And the world order it maintains. I vow to defend America and the opportunities it contains. I promise to give my best to American industry.

And to the homes it sustains. In recent addresses throughout the country, the noted lecturer has declared "The U N is no longer a mystery. It is now for the United States a Memorial Cemetery."

"The U S forces are now acting as a sheriff for world security. The contest is between the law and the law. Shall the depravity of the jungle prevail, or the dignity of the law preside."

"When the Soviet Union joined the United Nations, it was an act of aggression. Whenever united or direct action was proposed they parachuted out in a veto. They came into the U N. to weaken or kill it.

"Malik, the current agent of the destroyers, has by his words and actions cancelled out his right to associate with civilized men.

"Conscience is an outward agent of an inner spirit. The present leaders of Russia have no conscience. They seek to remove every spiritual concept of life.

"In nature there is little difference between a leopard and a Communist. Except that the leopard is more readily spotted.

"Every worthy member of the U N. is eager to see the upbuilding of a healthy, povertyless society of liberty under law.

"War and military action will not remove communism. It is eliminated by spiritual growth and the removal of the defects in society.

Free men must now link together in cordial unity-or envision the chains of the cruelest slavery."

Two Hurt Slightly

Patrick Malloy, 64, of Wallkill and his grandson, Edward Malloy, 3, were injured slightly when a truck and a station wagon side-swiped on Route 44 near Ireland Corners at 4:15 p. m. yesterday. State police at Highland said Malloy was driving his truck east on the route and the station wagon operated by Emil Hagen, 56, of Gardiner, was going west. Malloy and his grandson suffered lacerations and contusions and were treated by a doctor.

GOOD RIGHT ARM—A new electrically operated arm, driven by a tiny motor controlled by the amputee's toes in a specially designed shoe, is being put into mass production. With the device, the armless can answer phones, write in longhand, squeeze toothpaste tubes, all without fumbling. The insert shows the complex workings of the hand which, in actual use, is covered with a special life-like plastic "skin."

Specialist Reports Life Potential Is Beyond 700 Years

Mexico City, Aug. 9 (AP)—A New York specialist told Mexican doctors last night that "most people could live beyond the age of 700 if they would be willing to change their inherited metabolic pattern."

Dr. Murray Israel of Williston Park, L. I., spoke to a group of Mexican specialists on treatment for arteriosclerosis.

He said that inheritance plays a large part in deciding whether metabolism is in balance, and accounts for the continued activity of such men as Bernard Baruch and George Bernard Shaw.

But he said treatment to correct metabolic imbalance, through vitamins and hormones, could extend the life of the majority.

This treatment is based on the Hueper theory that arteriosclerosis—hardening of the arteries—results from a disturbance of the oxygen and fat metabolism. This permits the deposit of cholesterol in the walls of the arteries.

Cholesterol is a fatty substance which enters into the makeup of the hormones if not used properly. It deposits in the arteries and is the basic cause of the most dangerous type of arteriosclerosis.

Dr. Israel, director of the Vascular Research Foundation of Roslyn, N. Y., said this theory was as important in medicine as the Einstein theory in physics.

He said proper balance of hormones in the blood is also the key to the control of other diseases than hardening of the arteries.

He said persons over 70 should continue in productive work. Retirement, he explained, causes mental and physical changes which speed up the recurring nature of metabolic imbalance. This causes a surplus of cholesterol, which enters into the cells of the artery wall, thickening and stiffening the walls.

Wallace Quits Progressive Party

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Henry Wallace resigned from the Progressive party last night because it condemns the American stand in Korea.

The action completed a split that began three weeks ago between Wallace and the party that organized to run him for president in 1948.

Three weeks ago, Wallace made public his own support for the U. S. and U. N. actions in Korea—while the party's national committee issued a statement opposing the American action.

Wallace said then he would wait for action of the party's rank and file before making a further move. Since then, the Progressives' state party organizations have voted overwhelmingly to back up the national committee.

Wallace said he had no immediate political plans. He gave his decision in a two-paragraph note to C. B. Baldwin, his long-time political aide and the Progressive party secretary.

In his earlier statement, Wallace said he did not condone the past actions of either Russia or the United States in Korea, but that since it had come to fighting he would stand with his country.

Baldwin said there would be no immediate change in the set-up of the party.

Wallace is living on his farm at nearby South Salem, N. Y. He said he would continue some semi-scientific, semi-practical work in plant and animal breeding.

Wallace's political life often has obscured his rank as one of the world's leading experts in the breeding of hybrid corn.

Will Stay in Jail

San Francisco, Aug. 9 (AP)—It looks as if Harry Bridges will have to stay in jail until at least Friday. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday took under submission a plea by the C.I.O. longshore leader that the order revoking his bail was without precedent and the issuing court had no power in the matter. Government and defense attorneys were given until Friday to file objections.

Roosevelt Says Call Wouldn't Stop Him

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late president, says a call to colors would not stop his Democratic campaign for governor of California. Roosevelt arrived here by air last night and said he will go to Washington tomorrow to clarify his status as a colonel in the Marine Corps Volunteer Reserves. He saw active duty before and during the last war.

"I will not ask for any deferment whatsoever in Washington," he said. "I am only going to find out what the picture is. I just want information."

"I would, of course, continue in the political campaign if I am called into active service. However, I would not be able to campaign actively as a marine officer, but my friends would carry on for me."

Hunt Is Underway For Atomic Secrets

London, Aug. 9 (AP)—Scotland Yard hunted today a large brown suitcase containing atomic secrets which reportedly was stolen from an American scientist aboard a train yesterday.

The owner of the case was variously reported to be an American named Frank Greenleaf, F. W. Greenleaf, and Frank Miller Greenleaf.

"We've never heard of him," said a spokesman at the American embassy.

"We're trying to find out what it's all about ourselves."

dent's ideas into legislative form and hopes to begin public hearings next week. But the House Un-American Activities Committee already has held extensive public hearings on proposals to curb communism. Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) said he hopes to have a bill ready before the end of the week.

There was speculation that a bill by Wood, himself, might form the basis for the committee bill. This proposal would make it unlawful for a member of the Communist party to work for the government or to hold a job connected with defense production.

It presumably would be broadened to include at least some features of a controversial measure sponsored by Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) and generally referred to as the Mundt-Nixon bill. But by using Wood's bill as a starting basis, the Democratic majority of the committee would be getting away from a Republican label.

Mr. Truman left no doubt he was talking about the Mundt-Ferguson bill in the Senate when he said that measures proposing to "impose severe penalties for normal political activities on the part of certain groups, including Communists and Communist line followers" may do more harm than good.

Women, Children Used
Tokyo, Aug. 9 (AP)—U. S. Marine pilots reported today that North Koreans are using women and children to prevent bombing of some Communist troop concentrations. Leatherneck airmen said when they flew over some villages where the enemy is known to be assembling, the streets were teeming with women and children. No men or troops could be seen. They presumably were concealed in houses.

After questioning the man, Detective William Krum said Pretrowski's record included at least two other burglaries.

Camp Vacamas Has Expansion Plans

Whiteport, Aug. 9.—Camp Vacamas, near here, plans expanding its program for children, according to an announcement from Louis L. Smith, president of the association which operates the resort.

President Smith advised the press that "Camp Vacamas Association, an organization which has provided a free, two-week vacation for 1,000 underprivileged children each summer for the past 26 years, has designated Sunday, Aug. 13, as Camp Vacamas Day."

He added that members of the association will be asked to dedicate the day to raising funds to expand the camp program to reach 2,000 children a summer, instead of only half that number. day afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the George J. Moylan Funeral Home Main street, Rosendale and at All Saints Episcopal Church, Rosendale at 2 o'clock where services were conducted by the Rev. Frank H. Frisbie of Pine Plains. During the services Mrs. Mary LoBelio sang "Beyond the Sunset" assisted at the organ by Mrs. Cornelius LeFever. During the time the body rested at the funeral home, many relatives, friends and neighbors called to pay their respects and to offer condolences to the bereaved family. Also many fellow workers from the Hercules Powder Co. where he was employed called to pay their respects. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes all attesting to the high esteem in which he was held. Full military honors were accorded the deceased veteran by members of the Rosendale-Tilston Post, 1512, American Legion. The color bearer was Fred Matthews, the firing squad under the command of John Tyler were Louis Mastre, John Raska and Peter LoBello, Jr. The bugler was Howard Swchla. Bearers, also members of the American Legion were, Donal Proper, Joseph Murat, John Meyers and Michael Ersee.

EVEN GENERALS GET WEARY—Maj.-Gen. Hobart Gay, left, commanding the 1st Cavalry Division in the Korean fighting, shows clearly the fatigue of war as he sits out an enemy artillery barrage which caught his party while touring the front. Brig.-Gen. Charles Palmer, of Gay's staff, is at right.

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED—When this enterprising Franciscan friar got no response to his bell-ringing at the entrance to the Church of the Visitation, near Jerusalem, Israel, he put the decorative iron gate to practical use as a ladder.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—A mid-morning burst of demand for radio-television stocks pulled the entire market out of a rut today. TV stocks pushed up for gains running to around $2 a share.

Automobile issues, clipped by profit-taking sales after yesterday's surge of strength, crossed into the plus column.

Elsewhere losses were either cut down or converted into modest gains. Steels turned in a better than average performance.

Higher were Zenith, Radio Corp., Philco, Emerson Radio, Admiral, Motorola, Magnavox, Sparks-Withington, and International Telephone.

Others marked up included General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic, Acme (helped by a raised dividend), Firestone, Annacoda, Copper, American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, Bendix Home Appliances, Citi Financial, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (N. J.), Gulf Oil, and U. S. Gypsum.

Inclined to be balky were Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, American Can, American Woolen, Johns-Manville, and Union Carbide.

A summer rally in railway issues stalled in the bond market. U. S. Governments held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

A major factor in demand for TV issues, according to Wall Street sources, was an industry estimate that makers of electronic equipment will be able to take care of military demands with little, or at least limited, trouble.

Batory Has Man Picked Up at Sea

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Polish motorship Batory, watched with a gimlet eye by Uncle Sam during three days in port, was en route to Poland today with a surprise passenger.

He was picked up by the vessel nearly 100 miles at sea yesterday from a seaplane he had rented from a Hackensack, N. J., firm and which he had brought down on the sea.

The Batory skipper radioed the coast guard to come get him. But the coast guard replied its business was saving lives.

The Batory mate said the lone airman who settled his seaplane near the ship gave the name of Guillermo San Sebastian, a tourist from Mexico City.

But in Hackensack a spokesman for the Tompkins Seaplanes Company said its only missing plane, a Piper Cub, was rented by a man who gave the name of "Mr. New York" of New York. He rented it for a 15-minute flight, the spokesman said, then disappeared over the horizon. The firm reported the plane stolen.

The airman told the Batory skipper he was lost and out of fuel.

Miss Chadwick Is Congratulated on Her Channel Swim

Wissant, France, Aug. 9 (AP)—Florence Chadwick posed for photographers today and read messages congratulating her on her record-breaking channel swim. But in Dover, Eng., Shirley May France, who failed yesterday in the same grind, woke up only long enough for breakfast, then dozed off again.

Miss Chadwick, 31-year-old professional swimmer from San Diego, Calif., received 25 cables, mostly from her home town, hailing her 13-hour, 20-minute drive to break the women's record set in 1928 by Gertrude Ederle.

In Dover, a doctor examined Shirley May, the heartbroken 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., high school girl. He said she was suffering from extreme exhaustion. Shirley May's manager, Ted Warner, said the girl whose two attempts to beat the boy channel would not try again this year. She and her party plan to go to London Friday to stay for four or five days before returning to the United States.

Rodney Jocelyn, national champion aerobatic pilot, combines the stamina and intensity usually found in a Delco Locomotive with an unpretentious personality that is both cheerful and cheering. Practically all of us have, at one time, watched a pilot performing loops, spins and slow-rolls. They appear "easy" but we, especially those of us who have tried them, know otherwise, they are the essence of precision flying. How "happy" then, is a flyer who becomes the best in Aerobatic Pilots, the National Champion? We saw the answer at the Watwick Airport Show Sunday afternoon.

Flying his red and white checkered, experimental Great Lakes trainer, seldom more than 100 feet off the ground, Jocelyn gave a startling demonstration of the most difficult aerobatic maneuvers including an outside snap on the top of an outside loop, an inverted hammerhead turn and out-squats loops, both inside and out. As a special feature, he zoomed down, inverted, and with the tail of his single cockpit biplane he cut a ribbon, two feet off the ground.

Between Air Shows, Rod does aerial spraying around Pennsylvania but his home town is Urbana, Ill. A fighter pilot during the war, he has been flying for eight years yet only during the last two has he been active in aerobatics, in fact he won his title in what was also his first participation in a large air event. Prior to taking off for another show in Monticello he told this writer, "You know how it is, guess it's something I've always dreamed about that I still can't quite believe has happened!"

Kingston-Ulster Airport is now doing maintenance on aircraft owned by Carl Sage from Arlington Airport, Walt Klepous who flew his PT-19 up from Georgia and Gus Beckman, recently returned from his Alaskan cross-country flight.

John Davis and Bill Deyo flew to Prattville Saturday afternoon and Frank Burke flew to Great Barrington Tuesday evening.

Safety in the Air... a recent aircraft owners newsletter, issued by the National Insurance Underwriters, said that approximately 90 per cent of the fatal accidents in private and non-air line flying were the result of pilot error. In view of this report all pilots would wisely consider three main categories these accidents fell in. By not Operating Recklessly; By Maintaining Flying Speed; By not continuing VFR Flight Into Instrument Weather.

"I've been aviating in the See Bee" writes Joseph Berino from New Rochelle to friends at New Paltz Airport where he flies while attending New Paltz State Teachers College.

Kingston's Flying Couple of the week are Mr. and Mrs. Moe Lazarowitz, 35 West Chestnut street, who frequently make local flights from Kingston-Ulster Airport. First half of the family to get the flying urge was Lazarowitz who, after service in the Air Corps as a B-24 gunner, wanted still more flying and now has had his private pilot's license three years. Equally enthusiastic, however, is his wife, Trilly, who hopes in the future to take flying instructions herself.

The Kingston Civil Air Patrol has been flying regularly its new club Aerona, according to Ed Brown, who has been appointed operations officer for the airplane. Pilots who logged flight time during the week were Ken Pratt, Lou LaRocca, Ken Gordon, Gus Stauble, Matt Pisano and Bob Grant. All other pilot-members are urged to come to the field and be "checked out" in the plane while arrangements for flight instruction for beginners may also be negotiated.

"Comedy stunts and glider aerobatics will be among the features at the Air Show this Sunday at Deposit."

How Hudson, with exclusive recessed floor, brings you the world's Best Ride

OTHER CARS

"Step-down" design, with its recessed floor, brings space between frame members, which is wasted in other cars, into Hudson's passenger compartment. The result is America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance) for a smoother, steadier, safer ride than is possible in any other car!

Floor is on top of the frame, so the vital space between frame members is not available for passenger use. This creates a higher center of gravity which results in less stability, less smoothness as you ride, particularly on curves, in cross winds and on rough roads.

YOU ARE especially invited to try a Hudson ride, to enjoy a new way of going not available elsewhere at any price!

Hudson's new way of building automobiles with exclusive recessed floor ("step-down" design) results in America's lowest center of gravity—which is the key to the stoniest road-hugging ride ever known!

Hudson's exclusive recessed floor also results in low-built, streamlined beauty. Right along with full road clearance, it brings you more head and seating room than in any other car!

And brilliant, high-compression engine performance, a traditional characteristic with Hudson, is another engineering triumph that makes riding in this great car the outstanding automotive experience of the year! Won't you try it soon?

The new, lower-priced Pacemaker brings you all of Hudson's great advantages for just a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars!

Hudsons, with recessed floors, their great array of high-quality, long-life features, and advanced design, are among the leaders in resale value, as shown by Official Used Car Guide Books!

Would Have U. S. Lead
Baltimore, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) wants this country to lead in a movement to have the United Nations brand Russia as the real aggressor in Korea. He also wants the United States to use its U.N. Security Council veto power, if necessary, to keep Communist China off the council. "The dictator understands nothing but forthright language and action," the senator told an audience of 1,500 at a mass meeting sponsored by 30 Baltimore civic, veteran, religious, labor, business and industrial organizations last night. The meeting was called to protest Russian proposals to seat delegates of Red China on the Security Council.

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—There was some rain and a few hot spots but generally pleasant weather continued over most of the nation today.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

There is certainly need for contrary thinking today and I venture to point out viewpoints in this article that seem especially significant from an economic and business standpoint.

It would be the height of folly and wishful thinking to expect that everything will "go along as usual" merely because no great dislocations have occurred thus far.

It is important for us to realize that war and defense plans take long months—even years—to bring to fruition. If you wish to refresh your recollections on this score look up the amount of time taken to plan the Italian invasion in World War 2, and the far more colossal undertaking of the landings on the French coasts. (General Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe" reveals what "time" means in planning.)

We lay people have no present conception of what it will mean either (1) to hold the beachhead and plan for the counter-attack in Korea, or (2) if we are pushed off the peninsula what it will mean to gather strength for the re-invasion of Korea. As the months pass we shall be shocked at what lies ahead.

Another primary contrary thought we must hold before us is that the United States has embarked upon the most profoundly UNKNOWN future this country has ever faced.

In World Wars 1 and 2 we got into the war long after the wars had started. Prior to our entry our industrial plant had got well in production of war material for other countries.

This time we jumped into the Korean war unprepared both in mun-power and in war-power. Mobilization for war still lies ahead of us. We are presently fighting for "time" which is the essential component of successful warfare.

To look around us today—at business, at the stock market, and at life in general—one would suppose that the boom will go merrily on without set-backs or crises. The fact is that the set-backs and crises will shortly be with us.

After six weeks of a war that burst upon us unexpectedly officials and the Congress still are debating what should be done about appropriations, taxes, controls, and mobilization.

Take the matter of war production versus production of ordinary goods and products for home consumption. It seems clear that the extraordinary productive capacities of our industries have been underestimated. That is, the fears of shortages appear unfounded. Any defense program that is now foreseeable will not absorb full production of our plants. Automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines will still be manufactured. Inasmuch as the huge consumption of the past four years, coupled with the recent reckless rush to buy goods, has doubtless largely filled demands, it is the Ruminator's guess that we shall witness an actual slump in consumers' goods in coming months (after the rush to buy subsidies). Both war fears and rising prices will tend to curb buying when the present hoarding urge runs out.

Similar contrary trends may well develop in the stock market. At the moment the market is influenced by the psychology of a war boom—coupled with the current fear of inflation. It seems probable that as time goes on, and the current buying wave in the stock market slows down, we shall find prices ebbing and then falling backward. Inasmuch as the shocks of the war planning have yet to be realized—with the controls and taxes that will be imposed—the markets have yet to contend with negative factors.

It is thought in many circles that the fast break in prices, following the Korean invasion, has "corrected" the market's so-called technical condition, and that stocks will now continue to advance in a sustained trend. The Ruminator believes that this is taking too much for granted. This assumes that economic affairs will run on smoothly and profitably, which to this writer is an illusion that will shortly be dispelled.

If you will refer to economic trends during other wars you will find that numerous unknown and unexpected factors were continually cropping up; that it was not until the market could "see ahead" that important trends were established. Certainly, today neither the markets nor any individual can see ahead, because the future is uncharted. The political situation in the world is atomic, in the full sense of this new word. An explosion can occur at any moment—in almost any corner of the globe, or in the United Nations. One thing is certain: Everything will not run along smoothly in coming months.

Contribute to Freedom

A contribution is requested today. So very important all must obey. Freedom is something for which to fight. You all have a job, so do it right. Don't sit back, there's work to do. Freedom is up to you and you own it and make it live. To preserve it, you must give. Look around and you will find a way to help, you won't mind. Financial donation is not the only way. Just your cooperation to keep freedom alive.

Do be patient and you will see how quickly we'll win victory. Accept everything in its stride. Selfish thoughts should be cast aside. Here's to freedom, we pledge to contribute. To any task we'll make it suit. Give of yourself, make any sacrifice. For freedom is worth any price. BLANCHE CHERRICK 281 Washington Ave.

Pari-Mutuels Gain

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Pari-mutuel betting has pulled out of a nose-dive at New York race tracks. The State Tax Commission reported yesterday that wagering at the recent 12-day Saratoga-at-Jamaica meeting was five per cent greater than last year. The betting handle jumped from $16,449,263 to $17,266,955. Attendance increased about nine per cent, from 233,840 to 254,632.

Man, 107, Takes Trip

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Patrick Quinn, who says he is 107 years old and started traveling by plane when he was 100, arrived here yesterday on a Capital airliner from Niles, Ohio. The elderly gentleman lives with a son, Albert 56, at 850 Vienna avenue, Niles. He was met at LaGuardia Field by two other sons—Raymond, of New Rochelle, N. Y., a real estate dealer, and Leo, 46, of Manhattan.

Cruise Without Landings

Helfa, Israel (AP)—Israelis are going in for something new—Mediterranean cruises without any ports of call. Nearly 300 tourists left in the steamer "Artza" recently for a five-day pleasure voyage, but the vessel did not put in at any foreign port. The national treasury imposed the restriction to save foreign currency.

NEW RED CHIEF?—Reports from Canton, the capital of Communist-occupied China, say that the next military chief in Manchuria might be Russian-trained Gen. Lin Piao, above, at present commander of the crack Fourth Field Army. Manchuria, which is adjacent to Korea, is of tremendous strategic importance in both the hot and cold wars.

Solid Backing Given

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Committee gave solid backing today to Chairman Gordon Dean in an apparent policy shakeup with the Atomic Energy Commission. A round-robin signed by the nine senators and nine representatives on the committee expressed confidence in Dean after Carroll L. Wilson quit as A.E.C. general manager with mission are taking over control of the atomic program from the general manager. The diving-bell is said to have been invented by Roger Bacon.

EASY MEAT LOAF IS INEXPENSIVE

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

A new meat loaf recipe is always welcome. It's particularly welcome these days when meat prices are high. This recipe by an old friend of this column, Lucy M. Malby of Corning, N. Y., extends the beef protein with plenty of milk bread and bacon.

Easy Meat Loaf
One and one-half pounds ground beef 1½ cups soft bread crumbs, 1 cup top milk 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 3 tablespoons catsup, ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 slices bacon

Mix together ground beef, bread crumbs, milk, onion catsup poultry seasoning salt and pepper. Spread in a two-quart heat-resistant glass loaf pan. Cut bacon slices in two arrange on top of meat mixture. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for about one hour.

Lucy gives us another little item—this time for dessert. It's a party feature—rich, delicate and seasonal.

Pineapple Mousse

(8 servings)

One-half cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup shredded pineapple, 1 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons water 2 egg whites, maraschino cherries for garnish (4-ounce bottle)

Add sugar and lemon juice to shredded pineapple. Stir thoroughly. Whip cream fold into pineapple mixture. Add water to egg whites and beat until stiff. Fold gently into pineapple mixture. Arrange thin slices of maraschino cherries around inside of eight glass custard cups, five-ounce size. Pour in the pineapple mixture. Freeze in the freezing unit of refrigerator for about four hours or until firm all the way through.

Serve in the cups in which mousse was frozen. The top of each dessert may be decorated with maraschino cherries.

Married Sunday

Lila R. Howard Becomes Bride of Donald F. Newton

Miss Lila R. Howard, daughter of Mrs. Matilda Howard, 101 Roosevelt avenue, became the bride Sunday of Donald F. Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newton of Port Jervis, in a double ring ceremony at her mother's home. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra of the First Street Reformed Church officiated.

The house was decorated with palms, white gladioli and other garden flowers. Roger Baer was the pianist, playing the wedding march and other selections.

Given in marriage by her grandfather Joseph Weber, the bride wore a gown of white lace and net over satin. Her veil was caught to a lace and net bonnet and she carried a prayerbook with a white orchid and a shower of sweet peas.

Esther Howard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a gown of pale blue organdy with a matching hat, and carrying pink roses.

The best man was Joseph P. Fallon, 52 Lucas avenue.

After a reception also held at the home of the bride's mother for about 50 guests, the couple left for a wedding trip to northern New York and Canada.

Traveling, the bride wore a navy suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will live in Port Jervis.

Both were graduated from Kingston High School.

Little Gardens Club Hears Paper Telling Of Grand Canyon

Mrs. Maud Qumby discussed the Grand Canyon at a meeting of the Little Gardens Club Friday at the home of Mrs. Maxwell Taylor, 46 Fairmont avenue.

Reporting on the meeting, Mrs. Charlotte Nussbaum, secretary, said:

"She told about the building of Phantom Ranch, an achievement of the Santa Fe Railroad, which runs and operates it. All material was brought down from the rim on mule back 4,500 feet, nine miles of winding trail. The work was started in 1921 after the tourist season and by the middle of the summer of 1922 the ranch was ready for guests. Here geologists have found fossils of shells, coral and other marine life imbedded in the limestone and land animals superimposed.

"Down and down you go on mule back. Signs tell you that the dark red, blue and green layers of rock are Archean gneiss and granite. Here and there below the trail, faint tufts of gray-green vegetation wave among the stones. A label on a post tells you that this is limestone, deposited in the sea millions of years ago and moved up later by the movement of the earth's crust. A record of age."

"Those purple pits and gilded castles aren't painted on a backdrop. These are real depths that go somewhere, rocks cut and carved by some tremendous process. It started, you are told, nearly 9,000,000 years ago and was down there at the bottom, a mile down it is still going on.

"Visitors standing on the rim of this mighty spectacle are awestruck, filled with solemn and prayerful thoughts, stunned by its impact.

"Mrs. Qumby visited the canyon a short time ago and took data for her paper from an article in Women's Day.

"Mrs. Maxwell Taylor served delicious refreshments."

FORGOTTEN DINNER DATE

A worried reader explains: "The other day when our family doctor was here I learned his wife was in the country. They are not personal friends but we've known him for years. I asked him to have dinner with us and he seemed delighted and named the best evening. He didn't turn up, however, and after waiting a half hour or so we ate our dinner. Next morning I called his office to find out if anything were wrong. He had simply forgotten and felt very badly about it—so badly in fact that I wondered if it had been wrong for me to call and ask?"

It is such a well-known situation with almost every busy person that the best thing you can do is to assuage his feelings by inviting him again. I'm sure he regrets his lack of memory more than you do.

Wedding in Bereaved Family

Dear Mrs. Post: How much of a wedding would be in good taste for my daughter whose father passed away suddenly earlier this summer. At that time the invitations were ready to mail and her lovely hot weather wedding dress ready, her attendants also had their organza dresses bought. If we put the wedding off until autumn or early winter these dresses will not look right and we can't ask the girls to replace them with others.

Answer: The wedding could be held very soon if limited to closest friends and relatives. Invitations should be given verbally or

Baby Shower

Dear Mrs. Post, I'm an English girl not long in this country. I do have relatives who've been here for years. My sister-in-law is expecting her third baby and I thought I'd like to give her a shower. I could ask her friends to this as I haven't many. I'm told in this country a shower is not customary after a second baby. Is this true?

Answer: In my opinion a member of the family (which includes an in-law) should not again obligate the mother's friends—especially if they had given her showers on the other two occasions.

Many readers have asked questions about the new baby. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet, E-36, gives advice about choosing the godparents, the christening, and the announcement. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Pinero Farce, 'Dandy Dick,' at Playhouse Combines Romance, Racehorse, Minister

A fuss-budget of an old dean in Victorian England who succumbs to a vicious combination of circumstances and bets upon a race horse with subsequent horrendous consequences, including jail, is the matter of the light-hearted farce "Dandy Dick" which opened last night at the Woodstock Playhouse.

A treat to the eye, with its massive set and handsome costuming, "Dandy Dick," by Pinero is receiving a try-out here before a scheduled Broadway opening in the fall. The poor worrisome dean is played by Larry Gates, and his widowed sister, Georgiana Tidman—later revealed as none other than the notorious "George Tid"—of race track fame—is played by the delightful comedienne Mary Wickes.

The audience appeared to love the broad style employed by the actors and seemed to enjoy thoroughly the quaint blend of modern and Victorian humor which constitutes the charm of the play and which goes a long way towards overcoming the fact that the basic situation is, in 1950, essentially a hackneyed one.

For this reviewer, the play's best moments were contributed by George Roy Hill as Major Farver, a Jewish suitor of the dean's older daughter, magnificent in his uniform, and adorned with mustache and gleaming eyes, given to attacks of bile, and divinely infatuated with his tenor voice, and Kendall Clark as the local constable, a wonderful boor of a man, jealous of his dignity and his handsome wife.

The characterization generally in "Dandy Dick" is far superior to that of most farces. Even the horse—offstage in the dean's stable with a singed tail—takes on personality. The dean himself, despite his pious weeping, is a human after all, and his sister radiates a bouncing, horsey vigor.

The choice role of Blore, the butler, is played extremely well by Frederick Rolfe, and David Lewis makes a fine Sir Tristram Mardon, racing enthusiast in plus-fours, who joins "George Tid" in shattering the calm of the deanery. Unfortunately, the playwright fails to do as well by the dean's two daughters as he does by the other characters, and Nancy Marchant and Dorthy Hinkley in their girlish enthusiasms—designed to make their roles humorous and appealing—succeed in damaging the production rather severely, in my opinion. A large dose of restraint would improve them; the play and the audience's reaction enormously. Nancy Marchant is the lesser sinner, and besides she is marvellously pleasant to look upon. Miss Hinkley is "cute," but her antics do not wear very well. The audience consensus, judging from overheard comments, appeared to be: A pleasant evening in the theatre.—J.M.

Gibbons, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Ulster County Medical Society, presents Miss Mary Daryl Sheehan (right) with a certificate testifying that she has won the scholarship given to an Ulster county girl who wishes to become a nurse and whose "scholastic standing, abilities and personality make her outstanding." Miss Sheehan is the daughter of Mrs. Harold Sheehan, 12 Washington avenue, and the late Mr. Sheehan. The winner of the scholarship is permitted to choose which of the two local schools of nursing she wishes to attend, and Miss Sheehan chose the Benedictine Hospital. The superintendents of both hospitals assisted the auxiliary in making the selection. Miss Sheehan will begin her training in September. (Freeman Photo).

Coats Run the Gamut

Their Trend for Fall: Variety

The coat story for fall is told in terms of great style variety. The all-important great coat is done by Philip Mangone in smoky yellow and gray wool plaid. Collar and cuffs are highlighted by self-fringe. The coat has sweeping lines, huge patch pockets. A fitted town coat from Brigrance is curly yellow deep-piled duvety, double-breasted, with shawl collar and very full skirt.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York — (NEA)—This fall, women will find truly new fashion and great style variety in coats. They are fitted, wrapped, or flared. They are narrow, full, or semi-full. They are short, medium and great style variety in coats mere jackets.

They are, furthermore, tailored in tweed, in plaid, in cheviot, in fake fur, in fleece, in almost any wool fabric you can name. They come with and without fur trim. Their color is bright and it is also subdued.

Typifying the handsome fitted town coat is one by Brigrance in curly yellow deep-piled duvety. This coat is double-breasted with a fairly deep shawl collar and a very full skirt which falls into unpressed pleats. The waist is shaped in exactly the same hourglass silhouette used for suits. The lining is crisp black taffeta. Representing the important great coat, shown in all fall collections, is a virgin wool plaid in smoky yellow and gray by Philip Mangone. The lines are sweeping and details few but dramatic. The large cuffs are given six rows of self-fringe and the collar has three. The only other details are huge patch pockets and a single large button.

Miss Howland is to become the bride of Joseph Sapone in Schenectady September 10.

Laneeta Radcliffe and Charles Crespiro United in Marriage at St. Joseph's Church

In a "rainbow" wedding, Miss Laneeta Joanne Radcliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Radcliffe, 33 Teller street, became the bride Sunday of Charles Anthony Crespiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crespiro of East Kingston, at St. Joseph's Church.

Msgr. Stephen P. Connolly performed the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with palms, large baskets of white gladioli and lighted candles. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist and DeCosta Dawson, 36 Tietjen avenue, sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of frosted velvety marquisette with a tight bodice, full skirt and train. Her fingertip imported illusion veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a white satin prayerbook with a white orchid and a shower of sweet pea streamers.

Miss Lillian LaWare of Hurley was maid of honor, wearing a strapless gown of pastel green marquisette, with a full skirt, a stole and a large picture hat. She carried red roses.

The bridesmaids, wearing similar costumes in rainbow colors, and carrying yellow roses, were: Mrs. Shirley Burns, 33 Teller street, cousin of the bride; Miss Ellen Rogers, Gilboa; Miss Joyce Massa, 59 West Chester street, and Miss Martha Peterson, Tannersville, cousin of the bride.

Tracks Are Destroyed

Tokyo, Aug. 9 (AP)—American warships destroyed 75 per cent of the tracks in the marshalling yard at Tanchon, important North Korean east coast rail center, the navy said today. Complete reports of the Monday bombardment by cruisers and destroyers were received by Vice Adm. Charles T. Joy, commander U. S. Far East naval forces. The ship's guns also destroyed a complete train—a locomotive and 60 cars. It was passing through the yards. Tanchon is 125 miles north of the border between North and South Korea.

Bermuda was uninhabited until 1609, when Admiral Sir George Somers' ship, "Sea Venture," was wrecked on a sunken reef and a colony was established on the island.

RESTS AFTER RECORD-BREAKING SWIM

Florence Chadwick sits in shallow water at South Foreland Beach near Dover, Eng., to take breather after her record-breaking swim of the English Channel. Florence, 31-year-old swimmer from San Diego, Calif., came ashore just 13 hours and 28 minutes after starting from Cap Gris Nez, France, more than one hour faster than any woman has covered the distance. outlawed, to come up for a discussion. He refused to seat the South Korean representative unless the council agreed to hear a North Korean.

The meeting was still bogged down in a welter of procedure when it gave up until tomorrow. Malik wanted it to meet today and talk about the bombing of North Korea but was voted down 9 to 1, with one abstention — Yugoslavia.

After the meeting, Ernest Gross, a U. S. delegate, said a number of courses are possible to meet Malik's obstruction.

The most extreme, he said, would be to change the rules of the council of electing a president and make them effective immediately — virtually throwing Malik out of the chair.

Another extreme move — he stressed these are possible but not probable, would be to have no more meetings this month.

Another would be to transfer the problems to a specially-called session of the General Assembly. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said Monday such a session could convene in 24 hours if conditions warranted it.

But Gross added the course to be taken to thwart Malik's obstruction will be decided after consultations that may last through tomorrow morning. By that time other delegations can have instructions from their capitals.

Ray Billows Tops Met Qualifiers With 143

Ray Billows, veteran Poughkeepsie golfer, practically ran away from a field of 87 starters in the Metropolitan district qualifying play for the U. S. Amateur yesterday in the 36-hole medal play at the Montclair, N. J. Golf Club layout.

Billows, three times runnerup for the National crown but never a winner, scored a pair of 35s on the first two nines and then finished with a 72 for a 36-hole score of 142.

Bob Hope the slide-nosed comedian made his first major competition venture in the tryouts at Beverly Hills, Cal., but the sharp-witted funnyman of the movies and radio took 80 robust swings on the first four of the par 70 course and too many on the second. So he picked up his ball, conceding.

Billy "Dynamite" Goodloe, the colorful pride of Valdosta, Ga., qualified with 143 at Atlanta.

Other Metropolitan qualifiers included: William Fisher, Rye, 78-73-151; Ralph Straffel, Hempstead, 73-78-151.

Mal Galletta, Douglastown, 75-78-153; Jerry J. Cole, White Plains, 75-78-153.

Fred W. Mayer, Rye, 79-74-153.

Athletic Field No. 1 has reeled off eight straight victories to lead the Junior League standings in the Kingston Athletic Association's summer baseball program. A game and a half behind comes the Stadium No. 1 squad.

Frank Secreto pitched 5-hit ball as the Athletic Field tripped Cornell Park, 10 to 3. The winners collected 10 off Ken Higgins who was hobbled by six errors. Athletic Field reeled off three double plays.

Don Haggerty pitched 2-hit ball as the Athletic Field crushed Block Park, 14 to 0. John Burris was pounded for 14 hits including doubles by Frank Secreto and Ralph Lyons and a triple by Haggerty.

Chuck Engle, the municipal stadium pitching ace, outdueled Don Smith and Fred Orr in a tight game, 3 to 0, yielding only two hits to three by the Hasbrouck Park pair. Orr hurled shutout ball after relieving Smith in the third inning. Engle fanned 11, while Smith and Orr had 12, the latter getting nine of the total.

Harry Hurley permitted only one hit to lead the Athletic Field to a 4 to 2 decision over Cornell Park. The Athletic Field committed seven errors and miscues figured in both Cornell tallies. Hurley struck out 11, while Bob Baumer poled a triple.

156th Has Hail for Chow!—On Ground That Is

Hail and sun makes a peculiar mixture for an army kitchen, but that's what the 156th Field Artillery ran into when the National Guardsmen arrived at Pine Camp for their annual training period. That white blanket of hailstones on the ground around Headquarters and Battery A mess section is due for a quick disappearing act as a strong sun peeps from behind the clouds an hour after the storm. The hail, as large as golfballs, made the Guardsmen appreciate their helmets as they hurried about trying to make fast their tents that were ripped up by an accompanying windstorm. (Sgt. Rudolph Raymond Photos).

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Sixth Concert Slated Sunday Afternoon at 4

Woodstock, Aug. 9.—The sixth concert in the series of ten which are given every Sunday during the season at 4 p. m. at the Maverick Concert Hall, will be played on Sunday, August 13, by a group of "young professionals" under the direction of William Kroll. In view of what the Maverick concerts have always represented, this concert should be of special interest to those familiar with its tradition. In the course of 35 years, many fine and distinguished musicians have played in the hall. Numbers of them at the time of their Maverick appearance were unknown, later achieving recognition such as Leon Barzin who is now conductor of the National Training Orchestra. Another is Frederic Balazs, who at 18 played in the Maverick and this year at 28 conducted a concert at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York, at which time his "An American Symphony" was played for the first time.

Five young artists will be heard on Sunday. Mary Baird, violinist, was born in Detroit, Michigan, and is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music. During the winter she is a member of the Houston Symphony and in the summer concentrates on chamber music. Violist in the group Barbara Kroll has a rich heritage of music and she is the daughter of William Kroll. She has for the past eight years been first violinist in the Mannes School of Music. She has performed in six modern operas at the Mannes School, Hunter College and the Barabzon Plaza. During the winter months she is associated with Sam Lay, voice, College, playing in the string quartet and last winter was conductor of the orchestra.

Shirley Barsuk, pianist, comes from Montreal, Canada, and has given numerous radio performances in Canada. In the winter she accompanies Mr. Kroll's classes at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore. Among the numerous prizes which she has won is the Elizabeth Distler Prize for "Poetic Piano Playing" which she was recently awarded.

Already familiar to Maverick audiences the other two members of the group are Cynthia Eddy, first of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, and Melvin Ritter, violinist. With two Town Hall recitals to his credit in 1947 and 1948—Ritter is working this summer with Mr. Kroll, preparing for a third recital at Town Hall in October. His winters are spent in Tampa, Florida, where he is head of the violin department of the University of Tampa.

On Sunday afternoon the group will play Corelli's La Folia, variation for violin and piano, Bach's Sonata No. 1 in C minor for violin alone, and Cesar Franck's Quintet in F minor for piano and string quartet.

At the concert hall there will also be an exhibition of mural studies by Josef Presser.

Riding Club Field Day Set September 10

Woodstock, Aug. 9.—At a meeting called by the chairman of the activities committee of the Woodstock Riding Club, Inc. plans were formulated for their annual field day to be held in their ring Sunday, September 10, the first class to be judged at 9:30 a. m. To date 16 classes combined with membership games have been planned. There will be classes for young and old with lots of seriousness and fun for all.

The plans call for a costume parade on horse back, or what have you, through the streets of Woodstock during luncheon recess with a grand entrance into the riding ring after the parade. So far a glorious day is in the making.

In case of a visit by Prof. Howell and his rain on the 10th, the show will go on the next Sunday, September 17.

All the activities for the day are under the direction of Virgil Van Wageningen, chairman, with the assistance of other members of the club whose names will be announced at a later date.

The answers to everyday insurance problems —
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: In a recent discussion of various types of insurance covering damage and theft of things like jewelry, furs and luggage, one of our friends with some insurance experience kept comparing "regular" fire and theft policies with what he called "floaters." Can you tell me what difference there is between these policies?

ANSWER: There is a basic difference in these two kinds of insurance. Under the "regular" policy, the insurance company states the various types of loss for which it will pay and it is not liable for losses not specifically mentioned in the policy. In the "floater" the company is liable in all losses not specifically excluded by the policy. Any good insurance agent can tell you which is best in your individual case.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answer and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
